To the Postal Regulatory Commission

If you got this letter in a timely manner than the service is working correctly, but if this letter comes two days late, my God it's not working at all. I am writing to ask you to do the right thing. Forget who you voted for or who put you in office and work for the consumer. Pretend I am your mother, grandmother, aunt, uncle or a family member who needs to get their insulin in a timely manner. Yet my medicine comes late every month. Now I have to ration my insulin hoping I don't go into a diabetic coma. Oh my God, I don't have enough to get me through May, what do I do? I cannot afford to go to the pharmacy and pay $200-500 for one bottle. I am scared. I fear that my prescription will not get to me in time, next month either. I better call family and friends to let them know I need help, again. Maybe they can help me. No, they can't because they are just getting back on their feet from the Covid 19 pandemic.

Now what will you do how can you help me? You allowed your political views to out-weigh my health and well-being. My diabetes doesn't care if I am republican, democrat or independent, it attacks my health, just the same. So why won't you help people like me get our medicines, checks and letters from our grandchildren, great-grandchildren and family members on time? Why destroy the postal service? I know changes need to be made, make those changes; but ask employees, union reps and others what needs to be done. Don't throw the bath out with the bath water. Get their feedback and then come up with a structured plan that will benefit the consumer, the workers and the postal budget. Don't leave the American people in a lurch. HELP US!! DeJoy seemingly is not a good manager for this business, so don't allow his lack of skills destroy an AMERICAN CONSTITUTION. If you do, the Post Office will be an antiquated memory of long ago, like the Pony Express. And we the people will have to spend millions of dollars in the private sector just to get our medicine, letters from love ones and friends. HELP US, PLEASE!!!!

"But let all things be done properly and in an orderly manner." I Corinthians 14:40
